Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Turner. Turner discloses a puzzle wherein six oblong parts are capable of assembly into a cruciform shape (Figure 1). Note Figures 6-10 and Examples I-V detailing the blocks that may be used to construct the cruciform. Turner particularly teaches for several sets of blocks that each have recesses and are non-identical.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Turner. Turner appears to teach each and every shape as recited in the instant claims in his Examples I-V and Figures 6-10. The recited method for construction of the puzzle with the shapes is inherently taught since the blocks are identical and the identified shape to be constructed is identical.

In the alternative, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the shapes of the blocks of Turner to those instantly recited in order to vary the construction of the cruciform shape. Such differences in shape are considered to be obvious design choices given the teachings of Turner and that no particular criticality or advantage is associated with the recited block shapes as compared to the blocks taught by Turner.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
